About Mind Empowered

MIND EMPOWERED is a social NGO in Kochi, Kerala creating mental health awareness amongst youth, enabling inclusive education amongst children with disabilities and empowering women.

We believe that every individual deserves the confidence, support, and opportunity to thrive.

Mission	Mental health awareness through Education, Advocacy, and Community
Vision	Empowering individuals to navigate life with emotional resilience
Focus Areas	Mental Health, Inclusive Education, Women Empowerment

Our mission and vision is not just something we speak about - it is something we actively build through meaningful, on-ground initiatives.

STARLET is one such initiative - where our vision and mission comes alive.

What is STARLET?

STARLET is not just a hackathon.

It is a safe space, with an all-women environment to ideate, build, and grow.

Starlet is our flagship annual inclusive hackathon exclusively for girls and gender minorities, designed to help them step into the world of technology without fear or hesitation.

Why This Matters

Even today, many talented girls hesitate to participate in opportunities like hackathons.

- Parental hesitation due to safety concerns for girls makes them avoid participating in hackathons
- Low self-confidence of the girls in stepping out independently
- Intimidation around applying technology under time pressure

How is Starlet solving the above issues:

We are not just organising an event, we are in fact removing the barriers that hold women back.

- A Safe Space to Begin- An all-women environment with female mentors, judges, and organizers - giving both participants and parents peace of mind.
- Confidence Over Competition - We shift the focus from pressure to purpose - encouraging girls to create meaningful solutions rather than compete out of fear.
- Technology with Impact - Participants build assistive technology solutions to improve the lives of children with disabilities - connecting innovation with empathy.
- Holistic Growth- Mental health sessions, legal awareness, and mentorship ensure participants grow not just as coders, but as confident individuals ready for the world.

At its core Mind Empowered is about unlocking potential. We help young girls go from being unsure to confident, from curious to creative and from learners, to tech leaders. At Starlet, what truly stands out are the small special moments that cannot be captured in pictures:

- A girl who speaks up for the first time.
- A team that works 2 days on something they truly believe in.
- A participant who at the end of the 2 days says, “I didn’t know I could do this.”

Each edition of STARLET is a confidence-building journey, where girls try new things, step out of their comfort zones and take their first real step into the world of technology with STARLET.
